

BLACK HILLS ASTRONOMICAL SOCIETY

Greetings:

The Black Hills Astronomical Society presents an annual award for efficient lighting design. The 2004 awards are given to the Journey Museum and it's architects, TSP Three Inc. We also want to acknowledge Wyss Associates, Inc. for their work on the lighting design. We present the award to a building and its architect in an effort to highlight the problem of light pollution in our area. We are impressed by your use of intelligent lighting design and support your efforts in the following areas.

1. By efficient lighting retrofit and design, energy can be saved at the same time area lighting can actually be improved.
2. A saving in energy translates into direct savings of money.
3. By preserving a dark nighttime sky, we are preserving a resource that is increasingly becoming an asset in our area.

Sincerely,

for Black Hills Astronomical Society
